

International Zoo Yearbook ONLINE

Volume 42 of the International Zoo Yearbook (IZY), with articles on Amphibian Conservation (as well as general animal management), is available for purchase from Wiley-Blackwell. Have you tried the new online facility for reading or submitting articles? Volumes 1-42 are now available online and this is a great way to access IZY!

The link <http://blackwellpublishing.com/izy> takes you to the journal home page. There are several useful features, including 'Highlights' where you can access the introduction and two articles from IZY 42 for free (one on the Amphibian Conservation Action Plan and the other on the Conservation Breeding Program for Iberian lynx), reviews of recent volumes, a call for papers (the subjects for the next few volumes are listed so you can plan ahead) and guidelines on how to submit articles.

The menu on the left-hand side of the page will help you navigate around the IZY site.

Details about online volumes can be accessed from View content online. Click on the volume you would like to view and a list of all articles, and the reference section for more recent volumes, will appear in Blackwell Synergy. Here you will be able to read the title, author details and abstract (where available) for each article, and purchase a whole article (or volume) depending on your interests.

Blackwell Publishing is selling both online and print versions of IZY 41 (Animal Health and Conservation) and IZY 42. Details on how to purchase these can be found by clicking on Subscribe/ Renew, or contacting Customer Services through the link provided. Hard copies of in-print early volumes (8 and 14-40) are available from ZSL at the address below.

Happy navigating and contact me if you have any questions.
