

Positions available — BNHS requires

Project Manager for its Important Bird Area (IBA)/Indian Bird Conservation Network (IBCN)

Qualification & Skills: A degree in science/natural resources management or relevant field of study; • At least 5 years experience and competence in management and co-ordination; • experience in project implementation, execution and should be able to keep track record of securing timely outputs of high quality. • Excellent communication, writing and presentation skills • An understanding of technical and institutional complexities in India; Relevant technical background and appropriate managerial skills; • Proficiency in the use of computer programmes - MS office; • Fluency in written and spoken English is essential. Age: Upto 35

Job responsibilities: Project development, planning, monitoring, and reporting • Liaison for capacity building with state co-ordinators and IBCN Members • Capacity Development in planning, monitoring/Evaluation, reporting and fund raising. Bringing out Publications including MISTNET (Newsletter of ICBN), posters, website etc. • Reporting to the Director and under his guidance working in close co-operation with all technical staff, Project Officer and co-ordinate all the activities of IBA/IBCN programmes at the national level. • Ensure effective and timely development, planning, delivery, monitoring and evaluation of an integrated and useful programmes for IBA/IBCN.

Reporting relationship: Reporting to the Director

Location: BNHS, Mumbai

Applications: Applications should be sent to the following address within 15 days with a detailed bio-data and supporting letter of motivation specifically on the suitability based on selection criteria in the order presented above with names, addresses and contact telephone numbers of three references including one recent employer.

Educational Assistants at CEC Delhi

Bombay Natural History Society (BNHS) is a non-governmental organisation involved in conservation of nature, primarily biodiversity through scientific research, education and public awareness since 1883. In order to develop a broad-based support of people from different sections of the society, BNHS has established Conservation Education Centres at Mumbai and Delhi. BNHS is looking for individuals who are committed to the cause of nature conservation and are willing to bring people closer to the nature through education and public awareness.

Educational Assistants (2 Posts)

Work Station: Conservation Education Centre, Delhi

Reporting to: The Education Officer

Age: Up to 30 years

Qualification and skills:

The ideal candidate would be a graduate or a post graduate, preferably in biological science/environmental science). However, person with experience on the field of conservation education and without science background may also be considered. Knowledge of Indian flora and fauna as well as conservation issues is a must. Applicants must be computer literate with good knowledge of Microsoft Office applications such as Word, Power-point and Outlook. Fluency in English and Hindi is essential.

Responsibilities:

Designing and implementing conservation education programmes for School children and adults. Developing innovative educational programmes for teachers, which will help facilitate effective environmental education in schools. • Co-ordinating with volunteers and resource persons for various educational programmes Co-ordinating activities of distance learning programmes.

Salary : Will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The applications with a covering letter, bio-data and two references should be sent by post at the following address within 15 days, Only short-listed candidates will be contacted :-
Contact Director BNHS Address below.

Deputy Director - Conservation

Job Description: Deputy Director-Conservation will have to develop a dedicated team of people to undertake conservation advocacy at national level. The person is expected to develop conservation policies for the Society which in turn will be used as a core advocacy tool with various governments, corporate and financial institution. He/she will also over see the implementation of conservation related field surveys, rapid appraisal site visits, and campaigns, organize NGO network for conservation interventions, and undertake focused conservation oriented projects. The person is required to raise sufficient financial resources to run the Conservation Department and the conservation agenda of the Society. The person will report to the Director.

Qualifications: Basic post graduate degree in Life Science/ Zoology/ Botany with 8 to 10 years of field experience in nature, nature education and nature conservation with atleast 5 years direct experience in conservation activities. Excellent communication and advocacy skills are necessary. Experience of executing big conservation oriented research projects will be necessary. A good scientific temperament is essential. Previous knowledge of large fund raising is required. He should have research publications in national and international journals. Familiarity with various acts and legislation related to conservation will be preferred. Good physical health for rigorous field surveys essential.

Age: Between 35 - 45 years. Monthly remuneration: Negotiable, Please apply within fifteen days with detailed CV, marking the envelope with the post applied for, to the Contact Director BNHS Address below. Please note that applications sent by email or fax will not be accepted.

Staff for Bird Flu Project

1. Research Fellow: Educational Qualifications: The candidate should be 1st Class M.Sc in Wildlife Biology/Zoology/Omithology.

Experience: Should have minimum 2 years experience in field research work and proven interest in avian bird life/wildlife research and should have the knowledge of computer programmes like MS Office.

2. Veterinary Biologist: Educational Qualification: 1st Class Masters Degree in Veterinary Science. Experience: Should have minimum 3 years experience and proven interest in field research work in avian birdlife/wildlife biology or life sciences and knowledge of computer programmes like MS office.

Job Description : The work for both the posts involve extensive travel for fieldwork like bird monitoring, sampling, analysis, collection of information/data, preparation of reports and making presentations etc. Selected candidates will be encouraged to enroll for Ph.D programme. Valid driving licence for 4-wheeler will be considered as an additional qualification. Age Limit: Up to 30 years. Salary. Negotiable. The appointment will be initially for a period of 1 one year on contract basis. Candidates fulfilling the above requirements may send their applications with detailed bio-data and expected salary within 15 days to:

Contact Director BNHS Address below.

N.B. Applications received by email will not be accepted.
Mumbai , 12.5.2006

The Director, Bombay Natural History Society, Hornbill House, Shaheed Bhagat Singh Road, Mumbai-400023
Website: www.bnhs.org.